Childbirth Survival International Tanzania team will visit Kurasini Orphanage in Dar es Salaam for the fourth time and make donation of clothes, shoes, food, and other basic needs to help the care takers during this holiday season and give the children a reason for cheer. To make a donation or contribute to donation items, please contact Childbirth Survival International Tanzania Country Director, Mama Stella Mpanda at +255 754 432 584.

November 30 and December 2-3, 2015

Childbirth Survival International will revisit Amana Hospital in Ilalla, Tanzania (November 30th) to distribute 100 sterile delivery kits purchased from the US, also known as mama kits. Frequent shortage of basic medical supplies is a serious problem in many health facilities. CSI will also donate sterile delivery kits to Mwananyamala Hospital (December 2nd) and Temeke Hospital (December 3rd).

International Menstruation Day

Girls begin menstruation with little to no knowledge and often it's a terrible experience from menarche and every month thereafter. Coupled with poverty to purchase necessary feminine hygiene products and facilities to clean up and safely dispose of used sanitary pads, girls in many developing countries are experiencing menstruation harshly. CSI recognizes these barriers and works with schools and communities to donate sanitary pads and talk to girls about menstruation, menstrual hygiene, and reproductive health. CSI Tanzania re-visits Unambwe Secondary School in USA-River, Arusha. On August 17, 2014, CSI reached out to 27 girls. The CSI Team who developed "Girl Talk, Girl Power" is going back to Unambwe to reach out to 100 adolescent girls between the ages of 12-15 years old, with messages on reproductive and sexual health with the goal to delay sexual debut, prevent teenage pregnancies, prevent new STI and HIV infections, reduce number of adolescent girls dropping out of school, and ignite the desire to live and lead a successful life. Like last time, it's going to be fun, interactive, and educational. Click here for photos.
